

How to get to the Kairos Centre

The Kairos Centre is located at Mount Angelus Rd, Roehampton, London SW15 4JA. It is just off Danebury Avenue from Roehampton Lane (A306) which runs between Hammersmith Bridge and Kingston Rd (A3). The Kairos Centre is a five minute walk from Roehampton Village. Note: Danebury Ave can only be accessed from Roehampton Lane and not Priory Lane by car.

By road: from Roehampton Lane (A306) , turn off into Danebury Ave and follow the road as it bends to the right. After 300 metres turn left at the mini roundabout into Mount Angelus road and you will see the gate to the Kairos Centre in front of you. There is limited parking inside.

By tube: go to Putney Bridge (Wimbledon District Line) or to Hammersmith station (Circle and Piccadilly lines) and take one of the following buses:

By bus: buses 85, 265, 72 and 493 go to Roehampton Village. The 430 bus goes to Mount Angelus Rd from Roehampton Village.

From Victoria: Victoria Coach mainline or underground station, take bus 170 to Mount Angelus Rd.

From Clapham Junction: bus 170 to Mount Angelus Rd. From Clapham Junction over ground station: take the over ground to Putney High Street. Just out-side the station take the 430 bus which will take you to Mount Angelus Rd.

Nearest Airport is Heathrow but you can take 'Gatwick Express' train from Gatwick Airport to Victoria Station and then take bus 170 to Mount Angelus Road.
